Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP) is defined as:

- passing a required number of hours (67% of all hours attempted) and
- achieving a required grade point average (2.0 cumulative for undergraduate students and 3.0 cumulative for graduate students) and
- not being over attempted hours (150% of the published length of the students’ degree program).

Academic progress will be reviewed at the end of each semester.

A student who did not meet SAP standards may appeal to the Student Financial Aid Appeal Committee.

In order for a student’s appeal to be considered by the committee, the student must be able to meet the progress requirements (2.0 cumulative GPA for undergraduates, 3.0 cumulative GPA for graduates, 67% percent cumulative course complete, and not exceed 150% of degree program) by the end of that semester in which the student is appealing and students must complete a financial aid appeal form that includes all of the following:

1. Why did the student fail to make satisfactory academic progress
2. What types of extenuating circumstances existed and documentation of the situation.
3. What has changed in the student’s situation that will allow the student to demonstrate progress at the next evaluation

The committee’s decision is final; therefore, a student may not appeal the committee’s decision within the same semester. A student will be allowed to appeal to the committee twice during their academic career. If an extenuating circumstance arises, a student may submit a third appeal. The third appeal will only be reviewed by the committee if approved by the Director of the Office of Student Financial Aid.

How to Appeal

- Students must complete the appeal form completely and return to the Office of Student Financial Aid by the deadline.
